Unlocking Learning Potential

Blue Ridge Educational Center, Inc. (BREC) is a private day-school for students with disabilities and a 501-3(c) non-profit organization. BREC's private day school program has been serving students with disabilities in Warren County and surrounding areas for almost 20 years.

Our vision is that every student has access to an integrated network of community and family support that provides the skills and opportunities they need to realize their full potential. BREC provides a structured, creative, and flexible learning environment for students with a wide range of needs and abilities.

In addition to our year-round day school, we offer after school tutoring by appointment.

Our mission is to help emotionally and intellectually challenged students develop the academic, emotional, and life skills they need to be successful in the world. Working in close partnership with the community, we find creative solutions to complex student needs in a safe, in-community educational environment, addressing each individual's unique developmental requirements through a comprehensive, whole-person approach.

Our day educational program provides instruction for students aged 12-21. Our teachers and support staff are skilled at building therapeutic relationships with their students, helping students develop positive attitudes toward school and encouraging learning through repeated academic success. Our students develop:

- Functional Life Skills
- Self-determination
- Whole-child, Whole-school, Whole-community initiatives
- Transition skills
